Composers in the eighteen century created a new genre: the arrangement. Famous symphonic works were arranged for chamber music groups and performed for nobles at their houses. Taking further this tradition D. Zanettovich e F. Francescato dedicated to Opter Ensemble these works from two of the most famous orchestral works.	Two important arrangements prelude to one of the milestones of romantic chamber music: the trio op.40 by J. Brahms. This distinguish piece, famous for its melodic creativity, is also the first one ever for this ensemble: Brahms exploits every sound and all possibilities of each of the three instruments and mix them together, leaving them their voices and personality.	This programs presents different languages, from 20th and 21st century, and is a real homage to Brahms’s genius, being him the “father” of this rare ensemble. Particularly important in this program Ligety’s, a real masterpiece by the Hungarian composer, and F. Schweizer’s trio, dedicated to Opter Ensemble.
